

Jain Monk Bowls

For centuries, these nesting, turned Rohida wood bowls have been used by Jain monks in North India for gathering alms. With walls of little more than 1/16," they are among the most finely executed turnings we've encountered.

Dimensions:
3" - 10"d